SPEAKING of General Garriers the day after election the Louisville Courier-Journal

Yielding to no one in detestation for the party record of the man who has been elected president of the United States, we declared arly in the canvass what we here take leave to repeat, that he is a person of commanding intellers, voluminous experience in public affairs, incapable alike of personal vensitiy or malignity, and capable of being and of wishing to be a just chief magistrate. That this will be his purpose and policy we sincerely hope.

SENATOR BLAINE never performed an net more creditable to himself or more useful to this nation than when " he boldly charged that the south had a large number of representatives in congress to which it was not entitled because the right of suffrage was denied to colored citizens in that section." That was a truth which startled LEWIS M'KENZIE'S CONGRATULATIONS, of Judge Lynch's court. the country and led the people to guard the future welfare of the nation by placing the power of congress in the hands of lations to one of his coparceners in treach-statesmen who respect the rights of all ery over the result of the late presidential fuel is utilized, and the present curine on our men and propose hereafter that they shall be protected.

IT seems that the Rev. J. HYATT SMITH, who is elected over Hon. S. B. CHITTENDEN as member of congress from Brooklyn, is not as much of a democrat as he has been counted. We have doubted the correctness of the democratic claim as to his democracy, for under an intimate acquaintance of more than a quarter of a century we had come to regard him as a stalwart republican—as much so as the Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER. Mr. SMITH is a man of fine abilities and attainments, and will make his mark in debate. We rather think in his case the democrats have caught a

It is to be hoped that no republican will be worried over the wild rumors set affort by the democrats that the electoral vote of New York is to be counted out on account of the frauds in New York city. Let no one be disturbed by this democratic bugbear. The republican majority of 23,000 cannot be wiped out by treachery, neither can congress disturb it without revolutionary methods, and these are not feasible at the present time. GARFIELD is honestly elected and he will be legally and successfully inaugurated in spite of the ery of fraud or the interposition of "ways that are
